EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF SPURIOUS CURRENCY MANUFACTURED FOR HAYTIAN OFFICIALS—SEVERAL ARRESTS

IN THIS CITY-EXAMINATION AT THE TOMBS. In October last, Señor Evariste Laroche, Charge d'Affaires and Consul-General from the Republic of Hayti to this Government, received intelligence from the Treasurer-General of Hayti that an immense amount of counterfeit currency was in circulation throughout the island, and that the home Government, from certain information received, were of the opinion that the notes had been printed in this city. Schor Laroche came to this city, and communicated with Superintendent Kennedy, who detailed Detectives Farley and Eustace to work up the case. Since that time they have given it their attention, and recently, from one John A. Manget, of No. 66 Fulton-st., learned that large quantitles of Haytlan currency had been printed in the office of Alphonse Brett & Co., No. 83 Nassau-st. The officers called on Mr. Brett, and he informed them that one John Russ, an engraver, living at No. 34 Sixth-ave., had ordered the work on the part of the Haytian Government, so he the work on the part of the Haytian Government, so he informed him, and that the firm had received their pay from him, and, in fast, he was the only person known to them in the matter. Those facts were communicated by the detectives to Senor Laroche, and he visited Justice Hogan, at the Tombe, and made the following affidavit:

Evariste Laroche of St. Germán Hotel, being duly sworn, deposes and says: That he is the tharged d'Affaires and Canadi-General for the Republic of Hayti to the Government of the United States, and that he has been informed that the note hereto annexed, and purporting to be a $2 note of the Republic of Hayti, was, with many others, of like character, made and printed by Alphouse Brett, William H. H. Jones, and John Rass; deponent has examined said note, and the same is false, forged, and counterfelt; and he therefore charges said Brett, Jones, and Rass, with making and printing said note, well knowing the same to be counterfelt, and with the felonious intent to cheat and defrand, and prays that said Brett, Jones, and Rass may be arrested and dealt with as the law directs.

that said Breit, Jones, and Russ may be arrested and deal white as the law directs.

An affidiavit was also made by Manget as follows:
John A. Manget of No. 65 Fullon-st., being duly awore, says. That some time during the Winter of 1807-8 he was at the office of Breit & Co., at No. 63 Nassun-st., in the City of New York, and there saw being made a number of nodes similar to the one annexed to deponent's affidavit. Deponent, while in said nodes, and was fold by said Jones that he had authority to have said notes printed through Col. Wood, a detective officer in the Giovernment service. Deponent afterward carried a number of said notes to said Russ, and received from him, in payment therefor, an account of Breit & Co., at the rate of short $200 for every $25,000 of said notes. Deponent carried said notes to Russ on two occasions, and, to the best of his knowledge, carried about $25,000 of said notes on each occasion.

On the affidavits given above, Justice Hogan issued a On the affidavits given above, Justice Hogan issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused, and on Saturday, Brett, Jones, and Russ were taken into castedy, and conveyed to Police Headquarters. From information given by the prisoner Russ, it would seem that when the Haytian war ship Alexander Petion was in this port, in the Autumn of 1867, he was called upon by Admiral Ravigneaux, commander of the vessel, accompanied by two of his officers, named Clede and Challet, and at that and subsequent interviews arrangemenents for printing $500.000 of Haytian currency arrangemenents for printing $500.000 of Haytian currency were made by these officers with Russ. The latter called on Brett & Co., and negotiated with them for the performance and the following day interince in Philadelphia, from a strange man who called himself J. C. The complainant also stated that Kendrick & Co. had historined him that on the 30th ult. they sold for Kelly six of the Onondaga County the war and the purchased the bonds at his office in Philadelphia, from a strange man who called himself J. C. Clark of Lancaster, Penn., and that he had never seen the man before, from the face value. The complainant also stated that Kendrick & Co. had historined him that on the 30th ult. they sold for Kelly six of the Onondaga County the control of the County that the following day interinged him that the following day interinged him strange man who called himself J. Clark of Lancaster, Penn., and that he had never seen the man before, from the face value. The complaints of the following day interinged himself J. Clark of Lancaster, Penn., and that he had never seen the man before of the strange man who called himself J. C Clode and Challet, and at that and shoognest interviews arrangemements for printing $800,000 of Haytian currency were made by these officers with Russ. The latter called on Brett & Co., and negotiated with them for the performance of the work. Mr. Brett being fearful that there was something wrong about the work, asked his former partner, Wm. H. H. Jones, to call at Police Headquarters, and see if it was all right. He did so, and was advised by Capt. John S. Young, then commanding the detective force, to tell Brett to go on and perform the work, and if there was anything wrong about the matter, the Police would be the more easily enabled to get hold of the guility parties. Accordingly the work was done by Brett & Co., and delivered to Russ, and he, in turn, delivered some $600,000 of the same to the contracting parties. The remainder, $200,000, was found by Detective Farley in a feed store in Fourth-st., where it had been left on storage by Russ. The prisoners were on Saturday afternoon taken before Justice Hogan, at the Tombs, and a partial examination was had. There were present $800 to Haytian Government at this port, and others interested in the case. Nothing definite was done further than submitting the affidavits already taken, and the examination was then adjourned until yesterday, the prisoners, in the mean time, being locked up at Police Headquarters.

the counsel for the Haytian Government declined to give, as it would implicate other persons whom they are auxious to reach. It is believed, however, that large amounts of these fraudulent issues were printed and taken to Hayti by Admiral Ravigneaux and his fellow conspirators. It is asserted that the Admiral and the officers mentioned, together with nearly twenty others, two of whom were connected with the flaytien treasury, are now under arrest in Hayti, and that the evidence of the above and other witnesses, taken for the Haytien Minister, will be forwarded by him to the Home Government, to be used against the accused. Counterfeiting is punishable with death under the Haytien law. The evidence against Admiral Ravigneaux and his fellow officers seems to be very direct, and his position is, therefore, a most unenviable one. It is possible that other arrests may be made here in connection with the issue of the bine, red, and yellow currency, but the Haytien officials and the detectives are very reticent with reference to the affair. It will be observed that in the affidavit of Mange the name of Col. Wood, late of the Government detective force, is mentioned; this is a mistake; Capt. John S. Young, lately commanding the detective force at Police Head-quarters, is the person meant.

BOCK BEER.

The votaries of Gambrinus, all the way from Munich to Milwaukee, have been holding their annua revel during the last few days upon that most delicious of Teutonic tipples—book beer; and yet it is doubtful if one in ten of those who have amacked their lips approvingly over it, or one in a hundred of the many who noticed the pictorial and pugnacious goats lately rampant in saloon windows and the columns of German news. papers, has any just notion of the difference between plebelan and everyday lager, and the aristocratic and Mayday bevorage lately in season. Accordcratic and Mayday beverage lately in season. According to the Handbuch of the learned and enthasiastic Gumbinnen, published 25 years ago, it is exactly half a century since some magnanimous brower of Mumich conceived the idea of doubling the malt, lessening the hops, and keeping the liquor thus obtained five or six months in store, thereby producing a beer as far superior to lager as champagne is to cider, or "Sparkling Catawha" to the domestic juice of the grape. Caliban himself was not more enraptured with the "brave liquor" in Stephano's bottle, than were the worthy burghers of the Bavarian capital with this new beer; and during the first week in which it was exposed for sale in the speedily famous Bookkeller no less than 2,200 gallons were consumed. For many years its use was almost exclusively confined to that city, and it found such public favor that from May to July in each year it is still enjoyed in large quantities by all classes—even by ladies—and no well-ordered table could possibly be without it. Various fanciful explanations have been given as to the origin of the name, but Gumbinnen is doubtless correct in saying that it owes its specific title to its alcoholic strength, which made the first drinker stagger about so much like a man who is getting the worst of it in a collision with a goat—bock—that the lively fancy of the lookers on transferred that name to the beer itself, where it has ever since been retained. Lacambre, in his treatise on the "Fabrication des Bières," states that the season of bock-beer is preceded by that of Salvator beer, which begins on Easter Sunday and lasts three weeks. Common Bavarian lager contains about 4 per cent of alcohol, Salvator beer 54 per cent, and bock beer 6 per cent. This "prince of drinks" is distinguished by a particularly sweet and pleasant taste, resombling that of English ale, and by a strong aroma of malt. In appearance it is clear and sparkling, but somewhat darker than ordinary lager, and has a golden, yellow froth. Salvator beer closely resembles it ing to the Handbuck of the learned and entha-"bock season" is already a carnival among beer drinkers. The two last issues of the Sunday edition of the Westlichen Post, the leading German paper of St. Louis, contained whole columns of flaming advertisements in which bockbier, bockwierst, turile suppe, and steaks were set down as the main constituents of a "delicate and piquant lunch." (Bockwirst, be it noted is "goat sansage." In this city the demonstrations have been less noticesble, but the quantity of bock beer that has been sold and swallowed during the last week is astonishing. It is scarcely possible to state the full amount with accuracy, but a good idea may be formed from the fact that a single brewer west of Tenthave, sold his entire stock, 500 barrels, during the first three days of May. It is the habit, at least of generous brewers, to sell the bock beer at the usual price of lager as a special faver to customers, and so tempting is the beverage that only a few provident purchasers keep enough to be able, on a Summer's evening two months hence, to tap a "keg of bock," and enjoy a meerschaumperfumed carousal in the highest Teutonic style.

on Aug. 1, 1995, there was stoled from that Dang the 101 lowing described property:

Eight bonds of the County of Onondags, of the value of $1,000 each, numbered 508, 519, 513, 522, 523, 524, 525 and four bonds of said County, for $5.00 each, numbered 96, $7, 335 and 336; also, two Rochester City Bonds for $1,000 each, all the property of the Savinga Bank. He also stated that he had probable cause to suspect that those $15,000 worth of bonds were brought to this city for the purpose of disposal. That on or about the latinst, one Holmes B. Kelly, a broker in Philadelphia, had feloniously received the said stelen bonds, knowing them to be stolen at the time. Mr. Andrews further stated that he had ascertained that Kelly had, on the 4thinst, negotiated the saile of a portion of the bonds through Kendrick & Co., brokers at No. 50 Exchange place. That Eelly had the following day informed him that he had purchased the bonds at his office in Philadelphia, from a strange man who called himself J. C. The firm advanced the required $4,000 on the bonds, and saw a portion of the money paid to the men by Kelly.

On this statement Justice Hogan issued his warrant for the arrest of Kelly, and he was taken into custody just as he had given bonds in the sum of $10,000 to answer a civil compiaint instituted by Mr. Andrews. In default of $10,000 bail the prisoner was committed to the Tombs to await an examination.

THE COURTS.

THE SIOUX CITY AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COM-PANY LITIGATION. Charles A. Lambard agt. John I. Blair and

thers .- Mr. Justice Barnard, of the Supreme Court, has rendered his decision in the suit brought by Charles A. Lambard to be deglared entitled to a one-ninth interest of the Sioux City and Pacific Railroad, or its value, in favor of the plaintiff. He finds as facts that previous to the incorporation of the Company the persons who signed the articles of association had an understanding and agreement that each should be entitled to one-ninth of the benefits of the incorporation; that they then each subscribed for ten shares of the stock, and subsequently, in November, each subscribed for 1,100 shares, the Iowa Contracting Company taking 10,000 at the same time; and that the plaintiff, being interested to about one-ninth in the latter Company, consented to the subscription upon condition that his proportion of the 10,000 shares should be allotted to him, and that in all future transactions respecting the stock of the Raifrond, histone-mith right; and that Johnif. Blarr, the President of the road, for the road and the other stockholders; that no further subscriptions were authorized by the Board, but, under a resolution of May, 1807, referring the matter of increase of capital stock subscription be referred to the Executive Committee, John I. Blair and Oakes Ames, without having a meeting of the Executive Committee, received subscription as the stock of the subscription shows the subscription and the subscription are subscriptions which as hearing the stock of the subscription committee, received subscription as a subscription and oakes Ames, without having a meeting of the Executive Committee, received subscription and subscription are subscription as a subscription and subscription favor of the plaintiff. He finds as facts that previous to ing a meeting of the Executive Committee, received sub-scriptions to the extent of 22,700 shares, which subscrip-tions were afterward adopted by the Beard of Directors tions were afterward adopted by the Board of Directors, all this being done during Lambard's absence: that, on hearing of it, Lambard caused a demand to be made on Biair and Ames and the Company of his right to subscribe one-ninth of the new stock offering to pay the assessments, but that his demand was refused; that, previous to plaintif's departure for Europe, John I. Blair promised to protect his interests during his absence, and that, if the stock should be increased, his should be increased in the same proportion; that no certificates of stock have ever been issued, but on the Company's books Blair is credited with 5.109 shares, Ames with 6.400, and licrossed in the same proportion; that no certificates of stock have ever been issued, but on the Company's books Blair is credited with 5,199 shares, Ames with 5,400, and the plaintiff with only 1,299, made up of his subscription of 1,109 shares in November, 1899, and 800 shares on account of the Iowa Company; that Blair and Ames have the books of the Company under their control; that each share of the stock of the Company is worth $90, over and above the assessment of $40 per share levied on it. On these facts the Court finds that the plaintiff is entitled to 2,777 shares of the stock of the Company subscribed after the 16th of November, 1868, with all dividends, &c., besides his present 1,800 shares; but as his right has been demed by the Company, and his shares diverted by is and Blair and Ames, he is entitled, against those three, to a judgment of $22,169, being $89 for each share; but they may relieve themselves from the money judgment by transferring, within 69 days from the entry of judgment, the 2,777 shares—in which case he must pay the $40 per share assessed upon it. The Court gives the plaintiffs costs, with $10,999 extra allowance.

The Blaisdell-Belknap perjury case, in which Alvah Blaisdell-Belknap perjury case, in which alvah Blaisdell. Alfred Belknap, and Henry Jonness are charged with subornation of perjury, in procuring false affidavits to be made against Collector Bailey, was called for trial on Saturday, but owing to the non-appearance of Belknap, on account, as enamed, of sickness, the case prise, and it is a significant fact that no person in this city was aware that it was to be made until they saw it in the papers. Speculators all had the same chance, and no favored ring were able to buy bonds in advance of their neighbors "on information." The Secretary acts as he talks, and has the respect of all persons desiring an nonest management of the Department. The purchases will be made at the rate of $1,000,000 per week, and will be exclusively of 6 per cent Five-Twenty bends. Proposals will state the specific character of the bonds offered, whether registered or coupon; to which particular class they belong, as '62s, '64s, '65s (old or new), '67s, or '68s, and may be for any amount not less than $5,000. The offers must be for the sale of the bonds "flat," and each proposal must inclose a certified check for 5 per cent of the amount offered. The checks of unaccepted bidders will be returned as soon as the result is ascertained, and those of others on the following day, when the bonds must be delivered, for which payment in lawful money will be made as soon as they can be duly examined. The right is reserved to reject bits adverse to the interests of the Government. The first bids will be opened at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, May 12, at the Sub-Treasury.

Gold opened at 1397 before the Board, but before the ommencement of business declined to 1381. The opening sales in the room were made at that figure, but the market was weak and submitted to a further decline of 11 per cent, selling largely at 1375; from this point it railed to 1381, closing at 1371 2138. The transactions were enormous, and the market was feverish and excited throughout the day. The payments on account of com interest to-day were $587,372 99. The total exports for the week were $425,890. Government bonds opened strong, and not withstanding the further decline in London were in active demand at an advance of 1@21 per cent from the lowest prices of yesterday. Registered stock of all classes, as well as 0-40s and common 6 per cents, were in active investment demand, but there was an entire absence of a desire to sell, and no large amounts sould be purchased. The fact is that the foreign demand during the present year has taken all the floating bends from the country and from the market. Last year there were large blocks of '67 bonds held here for speculative account, and it was quite easy to buy one or two millions at a time without advancing the quotation more than } per cent. At the present time it is not easy to buy a tenth part of that amount in one lot. The offerings are all in small amounts, and brokers have much difficulty in filling orders for round lots. The attempt to create a panic in the London market will probably be a signal failure. The Bank of En. gland will no doubt be able to squeich the Spanish and Russian loans, but United States bonds have been too profitable an investment to their German neighbors to allow any serious decline, and the London bankers may again be obliged to buy back their short sales in the Frankfort market at a round effvance from present prices. State bonds were steady. Tennessee 6s sold at 67j; new bonds, 65%. North Carolina new 6 per cents, 55 255%. Missour: 6 per cent railway bonds were firm. Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw 1sts, E. D., sold at 87. Rock Island, 7 per cents, 98. Cleveland, Painesville, and Ashtabula, new bonds, 914. Pacific Mail was steady at 912292. Western Union Telegraph sold at 424. Express shares were dull, with the exception of Wells-Pargo, in which there were large transactions at 341 935. Merchants' Union sold at 151. Adams, 601.

The share market was active and excited. The New-York roads were in demand upon the reports that the several bills at Albany had passed both houses. Fort Wayne was buoyant upon a report that the declaration of a scrip dividend was under discussion, and would no doubt be made. It is understood that the road will be leased to the Pennsylvania Central in perpetuity, and that the latter company are to guarantee dividends upon the stock equal to ten per cent upon a valuation of 150. Before the lease is ratified the stock of the Fort Wayne will be increased to a point that will represent the money used in construction from earnings since its reorganization. Rock Island was an exception to the general list upon reports of sales of stock by the company which were without foundation, and were circulated in order to depress the stock. The balance of the list rallied in sympathy with the New-York roads, and were from $ to 14 higher. Lake Shore and Michigan Southern were firm, North-Western and St. Paul shares were strong, but without special activity. At the close prices were a fraction lower than the highest quotations, but the market was strong and excited. New-York Central was higher, selling at 180%, which is the highest point yet reached.
